Big Welcome For Astronaut

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE (AP) — Gordon Cooper comes "home" to Honolulu today and the first of a series of welcomes honoring his heroic feat of orbiting the earth 22 times in a 34-hour tour through space.

On the agenda were parades and receptions in Honolulu, at Cape Canaveral, Washington and New York, including a meeting with President Kennedy and an address to a joint meeting of Congress Tuesday. The 41,000-ton aircraft carrier Kearsarge, which plucked Maj. Cooper out of the Pacific 96 miles southeast of Midway Thursday afternoon, plowed along at 25 knots to keep the appointment for his famous passenger.

Cooper was scheduled to leave by jet plane at 8:30 p.m. (12:30 a.m. EDT Sunday) for Cape Canaveral.

It was from the cape that he rocketed off to glory last Wednesday morning.

Civic ceremonies at nearby Cocoa Beach, Fla., and a day of rest will precede the visit to Washington Tuesday.

ADDRESSES CONGRESS
President Kennedy laid on a reception in the White House, after a night's sleep.

ers invited Cooper to speak to a joint meeting. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who announced the invitation to Cooper, said it was arranged both to salute his outstanding space accomplishment and to mark the presumed conclusion of the Mercury space project.

Next after Mercury will be the Gemini project, to put two men into orbit in a single capsule. The goal beyond Gemini will be manned flight to the moon.

Wednesday, New York will honor Cooper and his family with a traditional ticker tape parade.

The prospect of so many public honors had no visible effect on the calm object of it all as he bounced cheerfully about the Kearsarge, submitted to protracted physical examinations and reported on the wonderful scenic views from 110 to 166 miles above the earth.

Doctors evidently were elated at Cooper's robust physical condition. The brief moments of giddiness, the reddened eyes and husky voice noted when he backed out of his Faith 7 capsule onto the Kearsarge deck Thursday were all gone after a night's sleep.

Huge Offensive Mounts Against Quebec Terror

MONTREAL (CP) — Aroused police and municipal forces mounted a huge offensive today against time-bomb terrorists whose sporadic depredations of more than 10 weeks were eliminated Friday with a series of explosions in the placid suburb of Westmount.

The City of Montreal set up a special 200-man anti-terrorist squad. Funds were assured by civic authorities, estimated at $5,000 a day.

Police Director J. Adrien Robert met today with heads of the Montreal RCMP division and Quebec Provincial Police and with representatives of 20 municipal forces on Montreal Island.

Meanwhile Sgt.-Maj. Walter (Rocky) Leja, 42-year-old army explosives expert, remained in critical condition in hospital victim of a bomb he was preparing to dismantle in Westmount.

50-50 CHANCE TO LIVE
He was given a 50-50-chance of survival. Hospital authorities said his strong physique is a factor in his fight for life. His pulse and blood pressure were reported good.

Surgeons worked more than five hours in a grim effort to save him. His left arm was amputated, his chest and face torn by lacerations.

City authorities said the West-mount bombs gave every indication of being the work of le Front de Liberation Quebecois, self-styled commandos pledged to achieve Quebec independence by violence.

Continuous Vigilance Planned Over Long Victoria Day Weekend

Montreal's 200-man police anti-terrorist squad will work around the clock in shifts. Smaller police forces on the island have been put on a 24-hour alert.

With the holiday weekend ahead—Victoria Day — police said there will be continuous vigilance in case the Monday holiday may have some symbolic attraction for the terrorists.

Quebec Provincial Police forces in the area were placed on 24-hour alert Friday night. Deputy-Attorney General Charles E. Cantin said in Quebec City "we are going to get to the bottom of this, no matter what."

Premier Jean Lesage, said he has asked provincial police to make special efforts to break up the terrorist group and to report to him personally.

Daniel Johnson, leader of the Union Nationale opposition, said in the legislature that he will demand immediate replacement of Attorney-General Georges La-palme and QPP Director Joseph Brunet on the basis of incompetence.

JFK Ventures Into South

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—President Kennedy ventured into the restive United States South today to appeal for public rejection of "the temptations of prejudice and violence" at a time of "tragic disorder."

Kennedy made no effort to duck the powder-keg desegregation issue, but his words were moderate and represented a plea that community leaders work toward the day when "all Americans enjoy equal opportunity and liberty under the law."

Kennedy flew to Nashville to help celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Tennessee Valley Authority and the 90th anniversary of Vanderbilt University.

Kennedy also had TVA anniversary speaking stops in Alabama—at Muscle Shoals and Huntsville. Scheduled to join him in those communities was Alabama Governor George C. Wallace—an outspoken Kennedy critic who has promised to bar physically an expected desegregation attempt next month at the Huntsville branch of the University of Alabama.

Air Battle Now Ended

PARIS (Reuters)—Pan American Airways today agreed to raise its prices on transatlantic roundtrip economy tickets, ending its six-day "war" with the French government.

A senior Pan Am spokesman said the French office received word from the company's United States headquarters that the airline would agree to the five-per-cent increase voted by the International Air Transport Association.

Kelowna Driver Killed In Crash Near Peachland

Another City Pair Injured As Vehicles Meet Head On

A Daily Courier advertising salesman, Gordon Webster, 22, of Kelowna, died Friday night following a two-car head-on collision one mile south of Peachland.

Mr. Webster, travelling south on Highway 97 in his foreign-built car, was in collision with a 1963-model station wagon, driven by John Ewart Thorlakson of Kelowna and Vancouver.

Mr. Thorlakson and his fiancée, Elaine Ireland of Vancouver, were admitted to Kelowna General Hospital with facial cuts and bruises.

Mr. Thorlakson was released following treatment. Miss Ireland is being retained in hospital for observation.

Both Mr. Thorlakson and his fiancée were wearing seat belts at the time of the collision.

RCMP said there would be an inquest but no date has yet been set.

J. A. Thorlakson, brother of J. E. Thorlakson, said today: "I don't think my brother remembers very much except for two headlights coming at him."

He said his brother and Miss Ireland were coming to Kelowna from Vancouver, to make plans for a summer wedding here.

Mr. Thorlakson has been an engineering student at the University of B.C.

Mr. Webster was well regarded at The Courier as a very promising advertising salesman. He stayed with the Reverend and Mrs. Sydney Pike, on Christleton Avenue.

He is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKinnon Webster and one brother, Harry, in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Born in Vancouver, June 2, 1941, he was educated in Vancouver and Oliver.

He was a resident of Okanagan Falls before moving to Kelowna Feb. 4 to begin work for The Courier.

It is believed he was going to Penitence to keep a date with his girl friend and to visit his parents for the long weekend.

The body will be cremated in Vancouver.

A memorial service will be held Tuesday from Roselawn Funeral Home in Penitence.

SECOND CRASH
In another local accident, two people were sent to hospital and an estimated $1,650 in damage resulted from a crash at Edith Street and Sutherland Avenue Friday night.

According to RCMP, a car driven by Plus Sohn, 559 Coronation Avenue, was proceeding south on Ethel when there was a collision between it and another car driven by Mrs. Ruby Edy, 1965 Pandosy Street.

Mrs. Edy has been charged with failing to stop at a stop sign RCMP say.

Mrs. Sohn and Frank Weninger, passengers in the Sohn vehicle, were taken to hospital for treatment and released.

Soviet Protest On NATO Arm Termed Preposterous By West

MOSCOW (AP)—Britain, the United States and West Germany today brushed aside "preposterous" Russian protests and said they will go ahead with plans to create a multi-national nuclear force in NATO.

The Western determination was laid out in notes delivered to the Soviet foreign ministry. The notes, which replied to a Soviet protest of April 8, used some of the most pointed language in recent diplomatic history.

The British, for example, said they know the Russians have 700 medium and intermediate range nuclear missiles pointed at Britain and Western Europe.

The U.S. note said "hundreds" of such missiles were aimed at the west and said it was "preposterous" for the Russians to argue that Western Europe should not be allowed to build up a defence.

One of the key phrases in the Soviet protest had been the following: "The plans for the creation of a multi-national NATO nuclear force have as a matter of fact been thought up for the purpose of satisfying the ever-growing demands of the Federal Republic of Germany."

The Western notes replied that the Russians are not only increasing their military strength, but frequently boast about it.

Aid For Flood Hit Areas Likely Decided Soon

HAY RIVER, N.W.T. (CP)—The Northwest Territories council was expected to decide today what assistance will be given to the flood-damaged towns of Hay River and Fort Simpson.

Councillors visited both communities Thursday to inspect damage. Hay River is 500 miles north and Fort Simpson 625 miles north of Edmonton.

The council was also expected to make a decision on a request from Hay River council and Chamber of Commerce that the residential and commercial section of the town be moved to the mainland.

Much of the island community has been inundated May 1 when the Hay River spilled over its banks.

Commissioner Gordon Robertson of the Northwest Territories said damage is heavy, but he would not release an estimate. Assessors had surveyed half the town, and estimates of damages were expected to run substantially lower than at Hay River. Assessors were to visit Fort Simpson today.

About 500 people have returned to their homes in Hay River, a community of 1,800. Many homes, some swept from their foundations, are still unfit for habitation.

A trailer camp was being set up on the mainland near the town, and Mayor W. R. McBryan reported 21 of the expected 42 units had arrived Thursday and some families had moved in. Electricity and water are supplied at the site, and a sewage system was to be installed.

A tent camp also was being set up, with about 12 tents ready for occupancy Thursday.

Hay River federal school resumed classes Thursday, with about half of its 220 students present.

Territorial council members toured two proposed mainland locations for the town. One is two miles southwest of the present site, and one three miles further south, both on the shores of Great Slave Lake.

Mayor McBryan said soil tests at the sites were promising, and further tests were being conducted.

End Corporation Taxes Royal Commission Urged

TORONTO (CP)—An elaborate argument in favor of the elimination of corporation taxes was made today by a metal processing company which said there is little justification for maintaining this particular source of revenue.

A lengthy brief from Anacanda American Brass Limited of nearby New Toronto told the royal commission on taxation that corporation tax is essentially a tax on activity, hitting harder at a profitable business than an unprofitable one. This meant that the dynamic sector of the economy suffered the most.

On business income above $35,000 the federal corporation tax is set at a flat rate of 50 per cent. The company brief said the ability-to-pay concept doesn't enter the picture.

"One cannot measure the ability to pay of an artificial person such as a corporation, any more than one can measure the ability to pay of a machine. In our opinion, therefore, income taxes can only logically be levied on natural persons."

Top Security In Kenya Poll

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—More than 2,500,000 Kenyans—90 per cent of them Negroes—started voting today under strict security precautions at the beginning of six days of elections leading to internal self-government.

The elections, for regional and national legislatures, are the first in this British East African colony under universal suffrage.

Violence and verbal mudslinging among the rival Negro parties and politicians marked the final week of the election campaign, and police and troops of the King's African Rifles Friday night were moved to "danger areas" to put down possible outbreaks during the voting.

Jomo Kenyatta, whose Kenya African National Union (KANU) is expected to emerge as the majority party, was reported to have been captured by British troops, according to reports reaching here today.

Alabama Tension Easing

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The federal government shows signs of relaxing its vigil in Birmingham's racial situation and Attorney General Kennedy's adviser on civil rights has returned to Washington.

Sheriff Melvin Bailey said, however, that authorities are apprehensive about the weekend. A 24-hour guard has been posted throughout the area of last week's rioting. About 200 state patrolmen and conservation department officers are patrolling a 24-square block area.

Assistant Attorney General Burke Marshall, who went back to Washington Thursday, said he has no plans to return to this racially troubled city immediately. He said he believes the situation will be calmed through the co-operation of Birmingham people.

About 3,000 soldiers are standing by at bases in Alabama, where they were ordered by President Kennedy after bloody rioting in Birmingham last weekend.

Alabama's segregationist governor, George C. Wallace, who challenged the president's right to send in the troops, may meet Kennedy in northern Alabama Saturday.

WEEK'S NEWS IN REVIEW

U.S. World-Orbit Record, Throne Speech, Bombings

Spaceman Gordon Cooper whizzed around the earth for more than 34 hours this week, then with automatic equipment out of order personally piloted his spacecraft to a ballise landing in the Pacific Ocean to successfully complete the longest United States manned space flight yet—22 orbits.

The 36-year-old U.S. Air Force major, described as the most relaxed, most nonchalant man in space the world has had opportunity to witness, was plucked from the Pacific Thursday after he had landed his Mercury Faith 7 capsule within less than five miles of the pickup ship USS Kearsarge.

His story—from his blastoff at 9:04 a.m. EDT Wednesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla., to his manual landing 34 hours, 20 minutes later—captured the imagination of people—and the news headlines—around the world.

Cooper sat through a scrub Tuesday when technical difficulties developed just 13 minutes before scheduled blastoff, but on Wednesday he had a perfect launch and encountered no difficulty until the 19th orbit when an electrical failure made it necessary for Cooper to handle the return to earth himself, using manual controls aboard Faith 7. He did it well.

When he stepped from the capsule aboard the Kearsarge, Cooper suffered a brief dizzy spell—but this had been expected. Space authorities said his condition was normal. The mission may have hastened the day when man lands on the moon.

PARLIAMENT OPENS
The first session of Canada's 26th Parliament was opened Thursday with the reading of the speech from the throne in which the new Liberal government set out to create an improved economic and political climate.

The speech, read by Chief Justice Robert Taschereau in the absence of ailing Governor-General Georges Vanier, placed the accent on the economic. Keynote was the oft-stated Prime Minister Pearson objective of "increasingly high confidence" in Canada's economy and currency, both at home and abroad.

High unemployment was labelled Canada's most urgent domestic problem.

Among the key proposals are plans for the new department of industry; a capital fund for the Atlantic Development Board; creation of a municipal development and loan board; a Canada development organization to channel savings to new industry; establishment of an economic council and a program for national fishery development.

In the non-economic sphere, the speech announced that a commission will be established to study Canada's biculturalism; that a comprehensive system of contributory pensions will be set up; and that a special Commons committee will be set up to "examine defence problems."

BOMB INJURES ONE
Army Engineer Sgt-Major Walter Roland Leje, 45, was seriously injured as he tried to dismantle a bomb before hundreds of horrified spectators Friday in Westmount, Montreal.

The casualty occurred during a wave of bombings that began in early morning and were placed in mail boxes. The bomb exploded in front of the soldier's chest as he made his third attempt to dismantle a bomb in less than an hour.

There was no immediate indication that the bombings

U.S. Car Threat Feared

ROME (Reuters)—Bargaining between the Ford Motor Company and Italy's Ferrari Racing Car Company today touched off fears in some Italian circles of a new invasion of European markets by American car makers.

A Ferrari spokesman confirmed there had been talks with Ford, but he said they centred on "co-operation in taking part in motor races throughout the world."

The spokesman added: "The talks have up to now brought no concrete results."

Rome's Corriere dello Sport says the idea that an American company might buy the super-modern Ferrari factory at Maranello—near Modena—would "at long last" alarm the Italian automotive industry and cause Ferrari to get government support.

The sports newspaper says the big Italian Fiat Auto Company could not afford to let a takeover of Ferrari's excellent factory "become a bridgehead in the offensive by American automotive builders which is spreading in Europe like a patch of oil."

But the Milan newspaper Corriere della Sera, giving a more favorable view, predicted the deal would go through.

It says: "Will Ford take over Ferrari? We say the future may have this in store for us. The results of the co-operation, which is very likely, will be decisive for Ferrari."

were connected with the FLQ (Le Front de Liberation Quebec), a self-styled terrorist organization blamed for other recent bombings in Montreal.

UNEASY QUIET
An uneasy quiet prevailed in Birmingham, Ala., Friday after an eventful week in the steel city's racial situation. Authorities were apprehensive about the weekend.

The previous weekend desegregation demonstrations erupted into violence with bombings that hit a Negro leader's house and a Negro motel used as headquarters in the integration campaign.

The violence prompted President Kennedy to send 3,000 federal troops into Alabama communities within 50 miles of Birmingham, a move protested by Alabama Governor George C. Wallace.

Quiet prevailed in the city through most of the week and by Friday business life in the downtown area appeared returning to normal. Negro leaders said they believed an agreement between white business leaders and Negroes to desegregate downtown restaurants and public facilities and grant greater employment opportunities to Negroes would be carried out.

SHIPPING TALKS

Further talks were scheduled in Washington next Tuesday when the labor ministers will be joined by heads of the

Jonathan The Beautiful A "Prince Among Men"

Among those noble men whose lives are etched in Biblical biography, none surpasses that of Jonathan. He is one of the most admirable characters to be found in the Bible. We will therefore do well to notice some of his leading qualities and endeavor to follow his example in true greatness.

Jonathan was the crown prince of Israel. He was a prince in another and greater sense—he was a prince among men. Upon being introduced to us through the inspired record, he immediately wins our admiration. He possessed those qualities that make men great and lacked those evil propensities which disappoint men in their expectations of them.

Jonathan was a fearless soldier. With a small contingent of men he attacked the enemy garrison that was stationed in his country. On this action Dr. Adam Clarke comments as follows: "This is the first place in which this brave and excellent man appears; a man who bears one of the most amiable characters in the Bible."

We get an idea of his heroic nature when in utter disregard of the odds against him, he and his armorbearer successfully attacked another Philistine stronghold. Great and generous souls are animated by opposition and take pleasure in breaking through it. Napoleon, when faced with the problem of crossing the Alps with his fully equipped army, said, "There shall be no Alps! The word 'impossible' is found only in the vocabulary of fools." Such a man also was the subject before our consideration.

Jonathan was a loyal and devoted friend. He was able to appreciate true greatness in others. Nothing so reveals his heart as his attitude on the occasion of David's victory over Goliath. Jonathan was overcome in admiration of the gallant achievement of this youthful hero. It seems he felt that David was much more worthy of the throne than himself. In token of this he stripped himself of even his personal belongings, such as his robe, sword, bow and girdle. In fact, "the soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul." This love continued unchanged through life.

Jonathan did not consider David as a rival, but as a worthy co-worker. He put his country before any personal consideration and relinquished his claim to the throne in favor of David. Let us look upon another scene which will lift him still higher in our esteem. David was subsequently hunted by Saul who sought to kill him. Daily pursued and not knowing where to flee, his faith was about to fail, then Jonathan brought consolation to his friend. We read, "And Jonathan Saul's son arose and went to David in the wood, and strengthened his hand in God." Such a degree of friendship is rare among men.

Jonathan was a dutiful son. He could see that his father had disqualified himself as the leader of the nation, yet the cause was that of God, and of Israel. In this cause he took arms for the last time and fell in the heat of battle. Great was David's sorrow at the death of his friend. David had responded fully to his love. We can feel the depth of his grief in the words he wrote when lamenting him: "O Jonathan, thou wast slain in thine high places. I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan: very pleasant has thou been unto me: thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women. How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!"—G. C. Schnell, Pastor of the Kelowna Free Methodist Church.

The Trained Seals

Combine the efforts of social psychologists, who can usually tell what form and color will find wide acceptance, with mass communication, and artistic taste will vanish; people will become trained seals. Such is the contention of Mavor Moore, Toronto actor, director and drama critic.

Well, let's look at the seal, or more accurately the sea lion, and see whether being like him would be so bad for the human race. You can teach him to balance a ball on the tip of his nose and even simple arithmetic, giving answer by a series of barks.

Yet in spite of all the training to get him to react according to a set pattern, his behavior can still be unpredictable. Remember, Jocko, the sea lion, that unfettered soul who escaped from captivity and swam the waters of Lake Ontario subsisting on the slim diet his own ingenuity could turn up?

His would-be captors tried to entice him with the juicy morsels reminiscent of a fat and sassy existence, but he resisted and stuck to the risks and dangers of the wild blue waters.

That's the saving grace of sea lions and men. Make them how to a fixed standard and suddenly another reaction sets in: the urge to be different, to rebel, to assert individuality.

Fears about the effects of mass communication have not been confined to our own time. People worried about individual taste when printing presses began to hum, when radios became a household appliance.

Yet why is it that in this TV age, appreciation for art, both classical and modern, has never been more widespread? Why is it that the man with unique talent always catches our attention, that the different make news?

Because the desire to be different is instinctive. We need not fear mass communication as long as we foster free expression. It's only when mass communication is combined with George Orwell's Big Brother society that the result is deadening. We often act like trained seals, but let's never forget that the Jockos of this world are always looking for that escape route.

As long as that is kept open, we need not fear. — The Telegram, Toronto.

IN PASSING

Regardless of how many people are thrown out of work by automation, the devil will never run out of work for idle hands to do.

On the basis that a fool and his money soon part, there's a larger percentage of fools now than ever.

A doctor says overeating will make a person grouchy. Yes—and so will having to undereat.

It is said the Lord loves a cheerful giver. And we imagine almost everybody loves a cheerful loser.

It is hoped the pesticide people don't learn that, according to a commentator—Rachel Carson, author of "Silent Spring"—is a hogsworm.

USING THE WRONG EQUIPMENT

Survival Of Crew Depends On Depth Of Stricken Sub

HALIFAX (CP) — There's a good chance the crew of a sunken submarine can escape—if the submarine is less than 300 feet from the surface. At greater depths, it's much more difficult.

Canadian personnel being trained by the Royal Navy to man Canada's future submarine fleet learn, among other things, how to reach the surface by "free ascent" from the bottom of 100-foot tanks at HMS Dolphin, a naval shore establishment near Portsmouth, England.

Commander K. Vause of the British 6th submarine division, based on Halifax, says chances are good that most of the crew of a sunken submarine could safely reach the surface by free ascent from depths of 300 feet or less.

But at greater depths a rescue bell would be necessary. The bell is lowered to the submarine's escape hatch and locked to it.

So far, only test escapes by experts have been carried out in the open sea. There have been no accidents in training.

Canadian sailors, with only one submarine of their own, are learning underwater warfare in British submarines, and a few Canadians also are being trained in U.S. Navy submarines.

The only submarine so far owned by Canada and manned entirely by Canadians is the Grille, operating out of Esquimaut, B.C.

Canadian officers and men for submarine duty, all volunteers, begin their training at Dolphin. Each British submarine now operational carries a small percentage of Canadians, perhaps five or six men in a crew of about 65. The initial five-year stint can be extended.

These Canadians, although receiving Canadian rates of pay, become to all intents and purposes an integral part of the Royal Navy. Some have risen to command submarines.

The cramped life aboard the submarines requires a certain character: including patience and the ability to get along well with others in the confined quarters.

The modern submarine, although an improvement over those of the Second World War, still is not blessed with excess elbow room.

Typical is the A-class Auriga, one of three posted to the 6th submarine division. This 268-foot craft was described by Cmdr. Vause as a "submarine-hunter-killer" whose prime purpose in event of war is to destroy enemy submarines.

Auriga is designed mainly for underwater cruising. Her flared bow is the only apparent concession to surface cruising.

LOOKING BACK with Old Stager

Auspicious Start To Ball Season

EDITOR'S NOTE: This week we reveal the identity of the player to many readers are interested in the identity of this column's author. He is Art Grier, Kelowna's Baseball Correspondent for many years and a long-time resident of the area.

Present day baseball leagues seem to get off to an early start, to beat the Kelowna-Bigtime League holds their annual meeting in the middle of May. Not so in the old days, the weather had to warm up, the days lengthen and the grass begin to grow green before ball players and their coaches and supporters began to think of working out schedules, and holding of organization meetings.

One reason, of course, was that generally speaking, the same interested citizens backed baseball and lacrosse that were the backers of the hockey teams, and in many instances the same players appeared in one or other of the summer sports, except of course for the "humpbacks" that all the valley towns would bring in to strengthen up the local squads.

A new and more ambitious baseball league was formed in 1913, called the "B.C. Interior League," including Kamloops, Revelstoke, Vernon and Kelowna. This league was destined to run for several decades with time out for participation by most players, and many of the fans, in two world wars.

The organization meeting was held in Kamloops May 4, 1913, and drew up a schedule to start May 14, and continue to Sept. 8. Interesting to note is the stipulation that "home umpires must work behind the plate," among the new regulations.

The opening game of the season took place in Kelowna May 18, between Revelstoke and Kelowna, in the Orchard City, and the Courier carried a full report. Kelowna won by the score of 3-2, and the report refers to it as "the finest exhibition of the American national game ever witnessed in Kelowna."

SPEDDY GIANT
Art Henning, the Kelowna pitcher, was the hero of the game, allowing only three hits. "The big fellow had speed to burn," the report states.

Revelstoke's starting pitcher, Ekridge, had the misfortune to throw his arm out in the first inning, but Webb, his successor, had good control and allowed only four hits in the remaining eight innings.

The Revelstoke team ran heavy to railroad men, which is not surprising, and were referred to in the report as "the speedy C.P.R. crew," or the "brakes." Fred Henning, brother of the Kelowna pitcher, pulled the best play of the game at shortstop, we are told, with an unassisted double play, catching a low liner near third, and tagging the runner, who had headed for home. There was also a fine catch by "Casey" Kincaid of a high fly back of third.

The visiting team got their share of the bouquets too, for we are told that when their center fielder made a fine running catch behind second he was given a good hand.

Treadgold, referred to as the "young old fellow," got into what would have been called a "thriller," when he got in bed with the umpire for an alleged interference, and was called out.

The "blood-brother," Henning, kicked the first ball, and the meeting was tremendous as he moved down man after man. No runs were scored on either side after the third inning, and the time of the game was only one hour and 30 minutes. We are advised the crowd was kept on their toes throughout, and we are told that "some of the Old Country men were getting a little delicious at times."

LINEUP
Following is the player lineup of the two teams:

Revelstoke: Ekridge, p; Webb, p; Pully, c; Bruce, 1b; Phillips, 2b; Derr, 3b; Fisher, ss; Lisk, lf; Storey, cf; Wilson, rf.

Kelowna: Henning, p; Grier, c; Fuller, 1b; Treadgold, 2b; Kincaid, 3b; F. Henning, ss; Feeney, cf; Hunt, lf; Tait, rf.

Score by innings:
Revelstoke 0 1 0 0 0-2
Kelowna 2 0 0 0 0-3

Umpire: Wilson and Neal.

The report of the opening game was followed by a short column of news items on sport, and included a few comments on the game. The spectacular double play by F. Henning was referred to as being "a la Henry Wagner," an early baseball hero of the U.S. professional leagues, then in his heyday.

There were other double plays, for the column refers to the "double play artist, Wagner to Tenny to Gladly, meaning Henning. Tommy Treadgold and Gladly Fuller.

LARGE CROWD

Another May issue of the Courier carries the report of the annual meeting of the Kelowna Baseball Club, which was held in the office of Dave Rittenbury, with a large and enthusiastic gathering of players and supporters. Officers elected were: Honorary president, F. S. Coates; president, T. E. Coates; secretary-treasurer, L. W. Colvin; executive and finance committee, L. W. Colvin, G. Fuller, T. Treadgold, Geo. Robinson (manager), A. W. Henning (captain), Purdy (playing manager), Dr. Gaddes, F. R. E. Delfort, and A. W. Bower.

Finances were reported in flourishing condition, new players were being signed, and new suits would shortly be ordered. Mention was made of the generosity of Messrs. J. McQuarrie, Dr. Gaddes, T. Morrison and others in offering to donate motor cars for out-of-town trips.

In this connection it might be noted that the Revelstoke team, disdaining the auto as a mode of transportation, stayed overnight and travelled by boat and train — on railroad passes, no doubt!

Fluoridation Row Now Reaches UK

LONDON (Reuters) — North America's perennial fluoridation controversy is flaring here with some typically British twists to a now long-established argument.

A parliamentary subcommittee triggered the fight last week when it came out in favor of introducing sodium fluorides to public water supplies to counter tooth decay.

The study committee was backed by health experts and British medical opinion, following a five-year test which showed dental decay in children was reduced by as much as two-thirds by the test program.

But a belligerent section of public opinion, sensitive to its rights, awarded to battle and in Scotland particularly found a powerful weapon.

Flow powerful was illustrated when Aberdeen hastily shelved a fluoridation proposal for two years, after a councillor warned it would threaten the quality of the city's best food, and most profitable product — Scotch whisky.

The anti-fluoridationists argued the superb quality of local whisky could not fail to suffer from the introduction of "poisonous" chemicals in the city's water supply. Telling reference was made to the fact that whisky exports brought Britain $207,600,000 in 1961, much of it from North America.

The victory for the anti-fluoride group was an historical copy of its first triumph, when fluoridation was first mooted here in 1932. The southwestern Scottish town of Kilmarnock, a heavy whisky-producing centre, dropped the fluoridation idea after its opponents pointed out the dire threat to the local produce.

Britain's Parliament ordered tests in 1958 of fluorides properties in reducing tooth decay.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE INCORRUPTEBLE
Sir: In reference to A. J. Barnes' letter of May 11 published in your paper, I would like to have a few words published as my own personal views.

I do agree that power could and does corrupt when put into hands of insecure and self-styled gifts to mankind (as they would have you believe).

For example I would like to say that any insecure, un-Christian individual put at the controls of anything whether it be social, political or economic could do a lot of harm and cause corruption.

I would also like to suggest that the most powerful force in the world is God's word taken sincerely to heart and it does not corrupt but does away with corruption in any form.

I do not see any of our sincere and honorable judges, lawyers, doctors, teachers or citizens corrupting, but pointing out and showing the corruption in our society.

As to unions going into politics I can not see any sincere person not taking a say in politics, as politics is just a word that means our everyday living and business life.

I will admit it has been drummed into our heads as something dirty and disgusting by insecure individuals who want power.

I would also like to say that Mr. Barnes look at the A.F. of L. and the Teamsters before he attacks the C.I.O.

And with some straight apocryphal thinking he would see who should be attacked and condemned for being corrupt.

WILLIAM FEIGUSON, Dairyman, Kelowna, B.C.

GOOD FELLOWS
Sir: At the same time Lester Pearson visited Kennedy, good fellows together, we read of the Birmingham, Alabama Negroes' struggle for freedom.

We read of a lone walker in that state who was shot and killed on a lonely road. He was carrying a sign "End Segregation in America," and in small type, "Black or White, Eat at Joe's."

In this tense ridden area the man charged with his killing is out on bail.

A "for" candidate with the National Guardian News, directly charges the U.S. authorities or agents with the assassination of the Laotian foreign minister, Quinlan Phob-anna.

This is the image, at least I am getting of America, month after month, year after year.

Could I make a friendly visit to the administration or the people of the U.S.A.?

ALEC C. BEASLEY, Winfield.

China And Pantry Showers Held In Honor Of Miss Eleanor Bosch

Mrs. D. C. Fillmore and Mrs. Harold Long were co-conveners at a china shower held at the home of the former in honor of Miss Eleanor Bosch whose marriage to Alfred Gatzke takes place today.

White and mauve china formed the background decorations and Miss Bosch was presented with a corsage of lilies on arrival which was tied with ribbon streamers on which were inscribed a number of medical prescriptions in reference to the groom's profession.

Young Avrid Scotch and Trevor Avrid dressed as a miniature bride and groom brought in the gifts which Gail Fillmore, the matron of honor, Conroy Carruthers, bridesmaid, and Miss Georgina Long assisted the bride-elect to open.

Following the opening of the gifts an amusing game was suggested by Mrs. Long in which the guests competed in the making of hats from crepe paper and the ribbons from the parcels, the winning hat made by Mrs. Pat Crooks to be worn with the bride's going away outfit.

Another delightful shower held in honor of Miss Bosch was the pantry shower hosted by Mrs. Jim Tompkins on Sunday evening. The many useful gifts were placed in a small wagon towed by the bride's small daughter, Cassandra, who also assisted the bride-elect and her maid of honor Gail Fillmore in opening the presents. After a number of games had been played, Miss Lena Culos assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

PLANNING THE REGISTERED NURSES' SPRING DANCE

Attractive Gail Martin is shown above centre-demonstrating an aspect of the Twist to the convicts of the Registered Nurses' Spring Dance which will be held in the Aquatic Ballroom on May 25th, as one of the highlights of the evening is to be a Twist Competition. The four convicts who are hard at work to make this a memorable occasion are registered nurses from widely divergent Canadian Schools of Nursing. From left to right they are Mrs. Bruce Paige, convener, who graduated in Regina, Mrs. C. O. Boake,

Catholic Women's League Report Of 27th Diocesan Convention

"Every member an inspiration to her neighbor," was the theme of the 27th Diocesan convention of the Catholic Women's League held in Penticton last weekend at which several members from Immaculate Conception and Plus X Councils of Kelowna were present to participate in the deliberations.

After greetings from various dignitaries, including His Worship Mayor Finnerly, the delegates got underway with annual reports from diocesan conveners which was followed by lively discussions.

RESOLUTIONS
A recommendation to the local social conveners by Mrs. Varcoe of Rossland submitted that every effort should be made with the respective social welfare workers to have a list of homes available at a moment's notice to take in foster children either for a day, a week, a year, or a lifetime. There is a crying need for such homes and it was the general feeling that there are many homes and families of goodwill who have never been approached on this score and do not know of the needs of so many children who are victims of broken homes, drinking, illness or left orphans. The largest category, most in need of love and care, are children of native Canadians and of mixed origins. It was hoped that a serious effort would be made to implement this recommendation immediately. A resolution emanating from the national headquarters pertained to the plight of lepers and their dependents throughout the world. Each council is asked to pledge support in the fight against this dreaded disease. Other resolutions pertaining to finance and administration were debated and passed.

The election of officers followed with Mrs. J. W. Bedford of Kelowna elected as second vice-president of the Diocesan convener. His Excellency Reverend Bishop W. E. Doyle in his banquet address spoke briefly on his trip to Rome last fall and his participation in the deliberations of the Ecumenical Council. He suggested that prayer and good works as well as exemplary lives are the best means of furthering the tremendous upsurge of interest and good will which is so evident in the Christian world right now. The delegates returned home with a renewed zeal and vigor in working for God and Canada.

Rutland Women's Institute Make Plans For Graduation Banquet

The Rutland Women's Institute has a very busy schedule this month. Five members attended the District Conference in Penticton on May 6th. Mrs. John Caljouw was the delegate and accompanying her were Mrs. Geo. Cross, Mrs. R. Gunner, Mrs. Geo. Flegel and Mrs. I. Peel. It was a very inspiring and educational day and Mrs. J. Caljouw was elected secretary-treasurer of the District Board.

All members of the Rutland W.I. have been baking for the Hospital Fair and helped in the delicatessen booth.

A meeting of this busy group was also held in the Rutland Park hall where plans were made for the graduation banquet to be held in the Rutland High School on May 24th. A special meeting for final arrangements will be held at the home of Mrs. John Caljouw, Walburg Road on May 14th at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hildred and their two children have returned from a visit to Saskatoon. They took with them also Mr. Hildred's stepfather and mother Mr. and Mrs. J. Thue, who have been visiting here and in Winfield, and whose home is in Saskatoon.

Mrs. John Schneider is a patient in the Kelowna hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gray returned from a motor trip to the prairies this past weekend, their son Jim, who is on holiday from Comox, Vancouver Island, taking them on a tour of points in Saskatchewan and Alberta. En route they visited Mrs. Gray's former home in the North Battleford district, and also the South Saskatchewan Dam near Outlook.

William Schneider and Harold Hildred left Wednesday morning on a business trip to Calgary. They were also accompanied by Roy Sandberg of Westbank.

The Anglican W.A. staged a highly successful Spring Sale at which plants, home cooking and needle work were on sale. Strawberry shortcake and afternoon tea were served, and the ladies of the W.A. were well pleased with the support received for their sale which grossed approximately $100. The affair was held at the Centennial Park Hall on Wednesday afternoon last.

ANN LANDERS

Diploma Is Important

Dear Ann Landers: I am a husband and I became his legal guardian and he made his home with us. I got him to see a psychiatrist and he made recovery. Two years ago my mother started to go with a man who drank a lot and treated her mean. She stopped going with him a couple of months ago and I was very happy about it but break-up because he is just plain no good.

Last weekend I was out of town visiting some relatives and when I came home I found my mother entertaining this man. It was 2:00 a.m. and they were both drunk. I slept in the car because it was obvious that the man had moved in bag and baggage.

My mother says she will gladly sign enlistment papers so I can go right into the army. I'm doing well in school and I know how important a diploma is. I can't stand to live under the same roof with my mother and this man but I have nowhere to go. Please advise me.

Dear Homeless: If your high school has no guidance counselor, speak to the principal or your favorite teacher immediately. Perhaps foster home arrangements can be made for you.

If this is not possible, the army has a special plan which will enable you to get your diploma while in the service. The important thing is to get the diploma. Dropouts usually stagnate at a low-paying level and are trapped there forever.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been reading your column for a long time hoping someone would write in about my problem. But no one has, so I have decided to write myself.

I am a person who is content to listen to others talk. More than once my evenings have been ruined by someone who says, "Why don't you ever say anything? You're so quiet!" Such a remark makes me feel like a fool. The implication is that I am silent because I am stupid. Some people aren't capable of saying witty or amusing things. I am one of those people and I know it, so instead of chiming in with some inane, senseless comment I just listen. How I wish I could think of a squelcher when rude people make a point of my silence. Can you help?

—THE LISTENER
Dear Listener: Try this when some loquacious, insensitive slob needles you about your silence: "You'd be surprised how much a person can learn by keeping his mouth shut. You ought to try it sometime."

Dear Ann Landers: I was fascinated with the letter signed "Sister" because I had the identical problem. It never occurred to me that even one other person could have been in such a fix. I too had a brother who was a problem to the whole family. He wouldn't stay in school and he kept getting into trouble. When I married, my husband has a fund of stories which he can give an eyewitness account in such a descriptive manner that it leaves no doubt that the same with the exception that we cannot find them enough to do in the field or manual skill but continued playing.

RECREATION COMMISSION MEETING
Harry Cox of Kelowna, was the guest of the Lakeview Heights Recreation Commission at their regular May meeting, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCartney on Tuesday evening.

Chairman, Mrs. Don Poole, presided over the meeting, while Mr. Cox who has instructed the gym classes for the past two years in the district, explained the necessity for a continuing junior leadership programme. With this in mind, the commission members decided that a clinic should be held for junior leaders, both boys and girls, early in the fall.

Arrangements are being made for coaching softball teams. Mr. Johnny Lingor will be coaching girls' teams and the times will be announced shortly.

Plans for the Red Cross swimming classes were discussed. Sherry Thornber is instructing this year and the commission proposes assisting Jennifer Poole in attending the Red Cross instructors course held at the Aquatic in Kelowna, in July.

The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting, the next meeting is planned for June 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mortimer on Ross Road.

Included in the pageant were performances by the Shriners drum and bugle band, the Chanters, the Oriental Band, the pipe and drum band, the East Kootenay band, the Trail lancers, the Victoria marchers and the Vernon Male Chorus.

The Vancouver and Victoria Shrine Temple Shrine brass band, under the direction of Jim Miller, gave a half-hour musical performance before actual ceremonies got underway.

During the opening ceremony Mayor Bruce Cousins, of Vernon, presented a glowing testimonial to R. S. Nicholson, of Vancouver, with a blue winter carnival lamp. Mr. Nicholson expressed his thanks to the mayor and presented Mr. and Mrs. Cousins with a large silver tray.

BOUQUETS GIVEN
Bouquets of flowers were presented to Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Cousins and Mrs. Ed Scotchfield of the Vernon Shrine Club president.

The New Westminster oriental shrine band led off the pageant performances with several musical numbers. They were followed by the Victoria Janitors, a drill team, dressed in smart white with red trim uniforms. The Janitors drew the loudest round of applause throughout the entire performance with their precision marching routines.

The Vernon male chorus also drew a good round of applause following their musical numbers, the chorus sang four musical selections, including a popular number taken from the Broadway musical my fair lady "Get Me To Church On Time".

The Gresh Temple Pipe and Drum Band, dressed in their plaid kilts, also received a warm welcome from the crowd. A dance for the entire Shrine nobility was held in the arena following the pageant.

As the bands dispersed from the arena, they continued their playing and marching, going to different hotels, onto the sidewalks and onto the streets until the early hours of the morning, attracting hundreds of onlookers who joined in the festivities.

RESTHOLM CEREMONY
Illustration presented to Mr. Nicholson, a statue of Mayor Cousins in laying the corner stone of the Vernon Restholm for Senior Citizens, at a ceremony this morning.

Hundreds of people lined the streets during the afternoon to watch the giant Shrine's parade down Bernard Avenue. Floats of every type and vintage were entered from all over the province, including a special float entered by Prince Rupert, where the Shriners spring centennial will be held next year.

The Gresh Temple brass band will stage another concert at the civic arena tonight. The concert will be followed by a fellowship hour at 10:15. The Shriners will conclude their three-day conference Sunday with a church service in Polson Park.

Rummage Sale Plea Succeeds As Old Clothes Swamp VHS

By JOAN PENNEY
Vernon Senior High

I hesitate to say the rummage sale for the Annual is this Saturday, but I presume it is, unless it's postponed for the second time. The call for rummage has been simply answered as the boxes of clothing in the Annual office and Mrs. Cail's room mutely testify.

The Art 91 classes are busy with graduation as they design placards for the graduation banquet.

Of those students who have completed their design, the boys are carving slate, while the girls are engaged in fabric painting. In addition to these projects a group of art students are working on murals, two of which will go to the sewing lab, and Mrs. Tullock's room. These murals are quite large and will be mounted on the walls of the respective rooms. When the above work is finished the class plans to try meal enameling.

A representative of the Okanagan Summer School of Fine Arts in Penticton spoke to interested students in room 25 at Thursday noon. A film was also shown, dealing with last summer's session. The school offers courses in drama, creative writing, pottery, painting and several other subjects during the time it runs July 8-27.

Further information may be obtained by writing the Okanagan Summer School of Fine Arts, Box 141, Penticton.

The decoration committee for the grad dance is buried in the projection room creating Greek pillars and scenery.

Although the Grecian theme is a hard one from which to create decorations the committee seems to be having considerable success with it.

Another graduation project is the date bureau. This is established to make sure all the grads have a date for the dance. It worked out quite well last year making the dance a huge success.

A pleasant distraction for students has been unwittingly supplied by the school board—window frame painters. During the past week teachers have had difficulty keeping students' eyes from straying to the men on the scaffolding... standing just outside the window. But the project is nearly finished now and classes can settle down again.

Recently the grad class has received pamphlets on Mount Royal Junior College, Calgary, through the mail.

This college offers one and two-year courses in a wide variety of subjects ranging from arts and sciences to secretarial training. It is a comparatively new college established to provide terminal, semi-professional or trade courses and to take the strain off the universities by teaching students for the first years of their university training.

Well it's too late now. Too late that is to rescue any gym strip from the lost and found. All material in the lost and found was last week donated to the rummage sale.

A warning to students turning out for track with spiked shoes—one—please keep off the lawn—the spikes ruin the grass and give the lawn an unkempt appearance.

VERNON VIEWPOINTS

The city licensing department and the traffic department are at odds — or at the best not consistent.

For some completely foreign reason, parking meters are in effect Monday in our town — yet for supermarkets, which close at noon, business is non-existent. Monday — every Monday except July and August — is truly a civic holiday in Vernon — but not for the parking meters.

Saturday is the big day in town and the meters don't let you forget it.

Stores are open to 9 p.m. and meters are, too. They have you at every angle.

OK! ... So if you don't like it why not rent a parking stall from the city at just $3 a month in one of the seven lots around town.

Right — and that's just what our man E. MacKay of Okanagan Landing did — but read on.

For three bucks he has his own personal slot adjacent to the Lotus Gardens. He doesn't use it on Monday 'cause the stores are closed and he has the day off. He doesn't use it holidays and Sunday of course. And he can't use it Saturday night because the city won't reserve it past 6 p.m. even though the stores are open.

Complaining bitterly to city clerk Ian Garven last week, Mr. MacKay says he was told to "use someone else's parking spot after 6 on Saturday ..."

That's great but why should he? If meters are running then indeed a $3 parking spot should be.

First of all though let's abolish paid parking on Monday — it just doesn't make sense — only to city coffers.

WHILE WE'RE ON PARKING, there wasn't any around town Friday and Saturday due to 1,500 Shriners in town with block-long autos.

No meter problems though — most of them had exemption stickers as all delegates to conventions do in Vernon.

WHEN THIS COLUMN HITS print we'll be down at the Coast on vacation for a couple of weeks.

The job will be ably filled by Bob Bauer from the Courier's city desk. Take it easy on him ... he's from Kelowna.

A 10-pound bag of sugar went up to $1.73 from $1.58 in retail supermarkets Monday. It was 93 cents in October. Supermarket officials predicted further increases.

In Psalm 91 we find some illustrations of God's goodness to man. After the dispersion of the Israelites, God gathered them together and delivered them from their hungry wanderings, leading them home.—Psalm 91: 1-3

When people reject God, they suffer in darkness and in gloom, prisoners in affliction. But when they cry to the Lord for help, His loving kindness brings them out of their darkness, delivering them.—Psalm 91: 10-13

Those who have sinned and those who are afflicted with illness, when they cry out to God in their distress, are saved. He sends forth His word and heals them, delivering them from destruction.—Psalm 91: 14-21

Those in peril, such as the men who go to sea in ships, know the Lord's deliverance from trouble. He can still the storms and calm the waves.—Psalm 91: 23-24

A Peek Into Future Of Religion

NEW YORK (AP)—Signs of the times today point to the shape of religion tomorrow.

Taking a look at the clues, a roundtable of American church scholars has come up with some estimates on what the Christian scene may be like 20 years from now.

Among the various changes foreseen:

1. A fuller understanding of truth, surmounting old earth-centred views on creation, dated terms and introverted concepts of the church, and recognizing God as creative love in vital engagement with the whole world.
2. Closer unity among the various branches of the faith, pointing up mutual convictions, on which the organizational patterns will depend.
3. Less concentration and expenditure on church buildings and more emphasis on mobile operations for conveying Christ's message into various realms of life.
4. A decline in biblical literalism, but a continued resurgence of biblical theology that considers the inherent meaning of scripture as divine revelation of the structure of existence.
5. A highlighting of the opposition between naturalistic ideologies, which regard human science and controls as supreme, and religion, which regards man as the subject of divine concern and spiritual purpose.

The previews are offered in a symposium published in the May issue of the Christian Herald. Nine churchmen take part in it. Most mentioned among the coming features of Christianity was the prospect of greater unity.

A mounting trend, says Rev. Dr. Kenneth Scott Latourette, noted U.S. church historian, is "the fashion in which Christians are coming together in a worldwide fellowship which embraces in one way or another the overwhelming majority of those who bear the Christian name."

However, several participants stressed that sound development in this field hinges on united theological commitments rather than on organizational arrangements.

"Mechanical union by dilution of convictions can lead only to dissolution of the church," says Rev. Dr. Merrill C. Tenney, dean of the Wheaton College graduate school.

However, he said many Christian divisions seem "less relevant" today, that some are in national origin rather than doctrine, and many of the doctrinal differences are being found relatively minor.

Prophets Of Old Upset Complacency Of Today

NEW YORK (AP)—If you get closely acquainted with the prophets of old, the effect may be jolting in the present.

It is "the end of complacency," says a man who has delved deeply into the lives of those ancient seers.

"They upset our peace of mind. They force us to face the naked realities of life."

This is a basic reason why the world today shies away from those disturbing, bygone messengers, says Rabbi Dr. Abraham J. Heschel, one of the world's great Jewish scholars and an authority on the prophets.

"They seem too strong for our emotions," he said.

"They are outraged at injustice. They challenge our indifference to it. Instead of comforting us and reducing the demands on us, which is the effect of most reading today, they provoke us and intensify our sense of responsibility."

Dr. Heschel, a meditative man of 55, with warm, penetrating eyes, a trim beard and greying, undisciplined hair, feels that modern civilization needs the conscience-stirring thrusts of the prophets. He wants to make them better known.

PROPHETS ARE UNKNOWN

"It is my dream," he said in an interview in his book-cluttered office at New York's Jewish Theological Seminary of book: America where he is professor of Jewish ethics and mysticism.

"We need to recapture these strange individuals and their outlook as part of our education and general intellectual situation."

Around him, the ceiling-high bookshelves bulged with aged volumes and documents, accumulated in his research and teaching in Europe and America. His own latest book, The Prophets, published by Harper's, is a probing, vivid analysis of those olden sages who spoke for God.

"Our culture respects many great men of the past, Plato, Dante, Beethoven," he said. "But the prophets are relatively unknown."

If their influence was more sharply felt, it might shake the rafters of modern religious institutions, he conceded, adding: "Our religions have yielded largely to the philosophy of comfort, of withdrawal into dogma. But the prophets insisted that God is involved in history and has a stake in what happens to man and what man does to man."

His soft voice rose. "Religion without this responsibility to and concern for concrete human problems is worse than idolatry. It is an abomination."

But just that manner of men were these impatient, disquieting divines who castigated society and gave the world the Bible? Dr. Heschel writes in his book: "The prophet is a man who feels the burden of the world's sin upon his soul and he is bowed and stunned at man's fierce greed. Frightful is the agony of man; no human voice can convey its full terror. Prophecy is the voice that God has lent to the silent agony, a voice to the pained poor, to the profaned riches of the world. It is a form of living, a crossing point of God and man. God is raging in the prophets' words."

The secret they reveal is "God's hidden pathos," Dr. Heschel writes.

THE FAST PACE OF LIFE

You'll find lots of people concerned about the tempo of life today. But most of them simply catch a breath when they can, and try to keep up with the pace.

There is something more important!

The winner trains... and plans his race. He may lag behind for a while, but he is confident of hidden resources. When others have burned up their energy and enthusiasm, he forges to the front. As they wilt in the home stretch, he sprints across the finish line.

The Church can help you train... and plan! A Christian is concerned with his own spiritual stamina rather than the fast pace of life. He is ready with hidden resources when the moment of challenge comes.

Difficult To Connect Ann With "Miracle" Healing

BALTIMORE (AP)—Eleven years ago she was dying of leukemia.

Today Ann Theresa O'Neill is a healthy, happy girl of 13, who likes to date, moon over rock 'n' roll and can't understand why anybody would want her autograph.

Looking at her now, it is difficult to connect her with a formally proclaimed miracle of the Roman Catholic Church. But the church regards her recovery from leukemia. The fact that Ann lives today, despite a nearly fatal disease, has been attributed to the intervention of Mother Elizabeth Seton, first native American to be beatified and now a candidate for sainthood.

It is one of two miracles attributed to Mother Seton, who lived from 1774 to 1821. The other involved the recovery of a Sisters of Charity nun in Louisiana who had a cancerous tumor.

Ann now is a bubbling teenager. But in the spring of 1952, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O'Neill, were told their four-year-old daughter would die of leukemia.

The child had been at St. Agnes' Hospital, run by the Sisters of Charity in Baltimore, for several months. The O'Neills took Ann to University Hospital 27, but became worse and was taken back to St. Agnes April 3. She had contracted a severe case of leukemia.

The doctor confirmed the diagnosis and began treatment with a new drug. Ann improved slightly but medical authorities could not hope for a cure.

"The treatments were tearing the heart out of us," Mrs. O'Neill recalled.

She was taken home March 27, but became worse and was taken back to St. Agnes April 3. She had contracted a severe case of leukemia.

Sister Mary Alice Power, head of the children's ward at the time, says:

"It occurred to me that Ann would be a good case for Mother Seton to show her power with God."

I told Mrs. O'Neill 'let's get

Merger Of Lutheran Church Seen In 10 Years For Canada

REGINA (CP)—The president of the Missouri Lutheran Church in Canada said today there is a possibility that thousands of Canadians will merge into one Lutheran church within 10 years.

Rev. Fred Scholte, minister of St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Ladue, Alta., said in an interview that 10 years might be "a bit optimistic but at least very soon there will be definite approaches made with this end in mind."

Mr. Scholte was in Regina to attend the national meeting of the Missouri Lutheran Church.

There are about 600,000 persons in Canada describing themselves as Lutherans. They are divided among three major churches—the Missouri Lutheran Church in Canada; the Canadian section of the Lutheran Church in America; and the American Lutheran Church.

Mr. Scholte said, "Pulpit fellowship of the Lutheran Church in Canada can be achieved in the next decade but since there are three Lutheran churches involved some time will have to be taken in preliminary discussions."

a novena started We'll storm heaven.

In the Catholic Church, a novena is a series of prayers offered for a special intent.

The nine days of prayers began. The sister told the O'Neills to tell all their friends and relatives to pray. She got in touch with the mother house of the Sisters of Charity, founded by Mother Seton, in Emmitsburg, Md. All the sisters and all the children in the order's many schools, hospitals and orphanages in the area prayed for Mother Seton to intercede in Ann's behalf.

Sister Mary Alice planned a tiny piece of ribbon, a secondary relic which had touched a bone of Mother Seton, on Ann's hospital gown.

The next day, April 19, Ann's blood count showed a definite improvement from her previous one.

Ann was so weak she could hardly hold on her head at the beginning of the Novena, Sister Mary Alice said. "Then she began to sit up. By the end of the novena she was able to be out of bed."

On April 27 Ann was discharged from the hospital. The O'Neills and the Sisters of Charity continued praying. On June 9 her blood count was taken again. The doctor said her blood count was normal. It could be.

Leukemia specialists say her cure is the first of its kind known to medical science.

Last March 17, Ann and her family, Sister Mary Alice and many others of the Sisters of Charity order witnessed the beatification ceremonies for Mother Seton in St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

WHL President Since 1945 Given Permanent Contract

SEATTLE (AP)—Al Leader, president of the Western Hockey League since it was formed in 1945, has been given a permanent contract that can be terminated only on two years notice.

The action climaxed a three-day meeting of league directors Friday. Leader's three-year contract was scheduled to expire in June, 1964.

A league spokesman said Leader was also given a substantial raise in salary. The amount was not disclosed.

Directors have given Edmonton Flyers and Calgary Stampede until May 31 to decide whether they can continue as WHL members. Both clubs have had difficulty with their National Hockey League affiliates—Edmonton having lost Detroit support during the meeting here, and Calgary have rebelled at its treatment by Chicago.

The dropouts were considered probable enough for directors to spend two days drawing up plans for a six-team league in Kenny McLean, Okanagan Falls, B.C., the 1962 champ, saw their 168 scored of Thursday night stand up for a first round tie on the saddle bronc.

Ted Vayro, Taber, Alta., scored 177 to start the second round of bareback riding. His earlier 174 effort puts him in the lead for the diamond spurs with a 351. Ken Stanton of Sister, Ore., won the bareback go-round with a 175 Wednesday night.

Kelowna Lawn Bowlers Host May Day Tourney

The Kelowna Lawn Bowling Club officially opened the 1963 bowling season at the club in City Park, Wednesday with 75 members and guests taking part in the ceremonies.

The North Okanagan Bowling Tournament with two ladies' and two men's rinks from clubs at Armstrong, Vernon and Kelowna to be held in Kelowna, May 20. Kelowna bowlers will compete for the Kennedy and Drew Cup.

Lawn bowling started in Kelowna in 1920 and at that time the club was known as the Kelowna City Lawn Bowling Club with greens at or near the present site of the Kelowna Club on Leon Avenue.

Some of the first members were Don Whitham, Alex MacKay, Bill Hughes-Games and Harry Blakeborough, all still active members of the club.

The Kelowna Lawn Bowling Club has 100 members this year. The club moved to its present position in the City Park in the early 1930s, and there the club facilities and layout are considered one of the finest in the province.

The season's activities will include usual club matches in ladies and gents doubles, triples, and rinks; also ladies and men's singles, doubles, triples and rinks.

Kelowna club also participates in various inter-club tournaments such as the B.C. Interior Tournament to be held this year in Penticton.

The executive for the 1963 season is Tom Griffiths, president;

"Hand-Me-Down" Pitcher Hurls Second No Hitter

Houston's Don Nottbart, a hand-me-down pitcher with an undistinguished label, stitched together the second no-hitter of the baseball season Friday night despite a couple of loose threads.

A 27-year-old right-hander with only 13 previous major league victories in four seasons, Nottbart blanked Philadelphia with a masterful effort smudged only by an error that enabled the Phillies to score a run in the 4-1 Colts' triumph.

Nottbart allowed four base runners in posting the National League's second no-hitter six nights after Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers did the same to San Francisco.

Meanwhile, the Giants kept their league lead at three games by downing New York Mets 4-3 on Joey Amalfitano's 11th-inning homer. Second-place

Los Angeles clubbed Pittsburgh 9-3 and St. Louis trounced Cincinnati 11-2. The Milwaukee-Chicago game was rained out.

Nottbart, purchased from Milwaukee last November, after compiling a 9-9 record in three seasons with the Braves, struck out eight and allowed three walks. A fourth base runner reached base on an error by shortstop J. C. Hartman.

Hartman let Don Demeter's grounder go through his legs and Demeter wound up on second base, moved to third on a sacrifice fly by Clay Dalrymple and scored on Don Hoak's sacrifice fly.

It was the first run scored against a no-hit pitcher since Bob Feller of Cleveland gave up a run to Detroit en route to a no-hit 2-1 victory in 1951. It also tied the score.

Howie Goss provided the runs Nottbart needed for his fifth victory in six decisions with a three-run homer in the sixth inning.

TWO WILLIES HOMER
The Giants pulled out to an early lead when Willie Mays and Willie McCovey connected for their seventh homers, but the Mets finally tied it in the eighth on Ron Hunt's homer.

Amalfitano's first homer of the season, off reliever Roger Craig, gave San Francisco its fourth straight victory. Gaylord Perry was the winner.

Bob Miller handed the Pirates their fourth straight loss and ninth in 11 games with Dick Scott's ninth inning relief help. Joe Gibbon took the loss.

Home runs by Stan Musial, George Altman, Dick Groat and Julian Javier set the job done for the Cardinals, along with the four-hit pitching of Ernie Broglio. Reds' starter Joey Jay, now 1-7, was the loser.

Ted Bowsfield Registers Another Top Performance

Another superb pitching job by Ted Bowsfield and a heroic hitting performance by Bob Allison have scrambled the standings at the opposite ends of the American League race.

Bowsfield, Penticton, B.C., native who no-hit Minnesota for eight innings last Saturday before setting for a two-hit victory, turned in a masterful three-hitter Friday night as the Kansas City Athletics blanked Boston 2-0. The setback halted the Red Sox' winning string at five games and dumped them out of first place—six percent age points back of Chicago White Sox, whose game at Baltimore was knocked out by rain.

Allison blasted three home runs in consecutive times at bat, and the faltering Minnesota Twins struggled out of the cellar with an 11-4 romp over Cleveland. The Twins had dropped four straight, seven of their last eight and 10 of 12, before erupting against the Indians, but they now hold ninth place by a half game over Washington.

called because of rain in the second inning of the opening game, erasing a grand slam homer by the Senators' Larry Osborne and a solo homer by the Tigers' Al Kaline.

Bowsfield, throwing a frustrating assortment of breaking stuff, limited the Red Sox to one hit—a third-inning single by Chuck Schilling—until he turned back his toughest jam of the evening in the eighth. Dick Williams opened it with a pinch double and Schilling walked, but the Kansas City lefty got the next three men in routine style.

Norman Mejias' single with two away in the ninth was Boston's third and final hit, and Bowsfield had his third victory against four losses.

The A's had only one payoff inning against Dave Morehead, the Red Sox' 19-year-old rookie sensation who had won his first three. George Walukic tagged the teen-aged right-hander for a two-run double in the third after a walk to Jerry Lumpe and a double by Norm Siebern.

HAS SIX RBI
Allison produced six runs batted in with his homers and showed admirable impartiality, hitting them off three Cleveland pitchers—Jim Grant in the fifth, Jerry Walker in the seventh and Ron Nischwitz in the eighth. The big outfielder now has nine homers, a .330 average, and tops the league with 29 RBI. Harmon Killebrew and Zoltu Versalles also hit homers for the Twins.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR YOU — Generous influences prevail, with some... Sports and other outdoor pursuits are in a planetary favor. Look for a pleasant surprise in the P.M.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY — If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that you can make fine headway in the coming year if you concentrate on your most ambitious goals now. May, planetary speaking, is your month and, even if results are not immediately forthcoming, you can take advantage of all available opportunities — reap rewards along job and financial lines by October, with a further upswing in mid-December and throughout the first three months of 1964.

June will be an exceptionally good month for those engaged in creative pursuits, either vocationally or avocationally, and personal relationships will be generally governed for most of the year.

Best periods for romance: the balance of this month, mid-July, late August, early November and mid-December; for travel and social interests: late June, early August, early September and December. Those with creative ability will be boundlessly blessed in June.

A child born on this day will be extremely talented along artistic lines; will also be endowed with a "green thumb."

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW — Fine gains are promised to those who are enterprising and aggressive on Monday. It will be a good day in which to launch new projects, exploit originality and successfully conclude financial transactions.

Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp told the conference on the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade that the Canadian government welcomes the United States initiative which looks toward the convening of a negotiating conference early next year.

As he has done earlier, Sharp stressed that Canada is in a special position by reason of its economy and will not be able to go along entirely with the concept of negotiating a tariff slash of 50 per cent on a linear or across-the-board basis.

"We agree that the proposal made by the United States for linear tariff cuts with limiting exceptions is an excellent starting point for these negotiations," Sharp told the 19 GATT delegates.

"It affords a basis for maximum result between highly industrialized countries which have a wide range of export and import interests and highly diversified economic structure," Sharp added.

"The investigations we have made so far suggest that for a country in Canada's position

But for East's... would probably have gone down... have made the hand without... the ten of spades—a... play he would scarcely have... thought of without the benefit of East's thirteen remain. East should have kept a stiff upper lip."

TO PROVIDE ARMS NEW DELHI (AP)—Yugoslavia has agreed to provide India with about $600,000 worth of arms and ammunition for defence against Communist China. The agreement signed here today provides for payment in rupees over three years.

OPIMUM INCREASES GENEVA (Reuters)—The 21-country United Nations commission on narcotics Friday expressed concern at the increased amounts of opium and cocaine circulating in the world because medical consumption of the drug has gone down, especially in India, the commission said. This "could create a real danger" in future.

Of course, such remarks are strictly forbidden during the play and should not be made. It became obvious to South that East could not have said this unless he had a singleton spade which he would have led if he had been the opening leader.

The properties allow declarer to take advantage of any information he obtains from his opponents, though he does so, of course, at his own risk.

So, armed with the knowledge that East had a singleton spade (which declarer hoped was the nine), South drew three rounds of trumps, ending in his hand, the lead to draw all of East's trumps to prevent a spade ruff.

He then led the ten of spades, and when West followed with the four, played low from dummy. Another spade lead put

Canada All For Cracking World's Trading Barriers

GENEVA (CP) — Canada with its limited domestic market, its patterns of production and trade and its relatively narrow range of exports, it is difficult to find any single formula applicable to all countries which would afford for Canada a variety of trade and other economic benefits.

"We can, however, say here and now, firmly and unequivocally, that Canada will play its full part in the forthcoming negotiations and make substantial concessions in the Canadian tariff commensurate with the benefits we receive."

But for East's... would probably have gone down... have made the hand without... the ten of spades—a... play he would scarcely have... thought of without the benefit of East's thirteen remain. East should have kept a stiff upper lip."

TO PROVIDE ARMS NEW DELHI (AP)—Yugoslavia has agreed to provide India with about $600,000 worth of arms and ammunition for defence against Communist China. The agreement signed here today provides for payment in rupees over three years.

OPIMUM INCREASES GENEVA (Reuters)—The 21-country United Nations commission on narcotics Friday expressed concern at the increased amounts of opium and cocaine circulating in the world because medical consumption of the drug has gone down, especially in India, the commission said. This "could create a real danger" in future.

Of course, such remarks are strictly forbidden during the play and should not be made. It became obvious to South that East could not have said this unless he had a singleton spade which he would have led if he had been the opening leader.

The properties allow declarer to take advantage of any information he obtains from his opponents, though he does so, of course, at his own risk.

So, armed with the knowledge that East had a singleton spade (which declarer hoped was the nine), South drew three rounds of trumps, ending in his hand, the lead to draw all of East's trumps to prevent a spade ruff.

He then led the ten of spades, and when West followed with the four, played low from dummy. Another spade lead put

VISITS ALGERIA ALGERIA (AP)—Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro will visit Algeria May 28, officials announced Friday. There was no immediate indication how long he would stay or what his program would be. Castro was in Moscow today after a 10-day tour of the Soviet hinterlands.

SEIZE TAXIS HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban government has cracked down on the threat of counter-revolution coming from the Bay of Pigs by taxi. The government seized 42 taxi cabs and the business of 22 shopkeepers near the Bay of Pigs, the newspaper Revolution said Friday. All 44 taxi drivers and shopkeepers were "directly or indirectly joined to counter-revolutionary activities," the paper said.

Opening lead — King of the clubs.
This hand comes from a rubber bridge game. The lengthy bidding sequence stemmed from the part score. North-South were carrying from an earlier hand. North's redouble of four hearts was strategically sound since he should have been happy to settle for four hearts double and not do anything to disturb that contract.

South would almost surely have gone down in five hearts if East had not made a comment that led declarer to the winning line of play.

West opened the king of diamonds and South took it with the ace. At this point East said unhappily that he would probably have beaten the contract if he had been on lead.

Of course, such remarks are strictly forbidden during the play and should not be made. It became obvious to South that East could not have said this unless he had a singleton spade which he would have led if he had been the opening leader.
